The Bill Of Rights is of dubious value. The Ninth Amendment is pretty much useless. Joshua V. 01-17-2011, 09:27 PM If there is a 'Ninth Amendment' why have a First Amendment?! jndyism 01-17-2011, 10:17 PM If there is a 'Ninth Amendment' why have a First Amendment?! And the Second Amendment. At least there are people who get sick of the Constitution and Amend it anyway. For as easy to abuse as the Constitution could be it still has the benefit of being valid under federal law. The Bill of Rights only has some value in the states. Not much. There are many things that would be dangerous to make more restrictive if you remove "shall not be violated" from every amendment. That's the very nature of it. No amendment is truly unlimited. Mornings 01-17-2011, 10:40 PM Rights vs liberties, I am not for one of either. Joshua V. 01-17-2011, 10:54 PM Rights vs liberties, I am not for one of either. I think you meant rights, Liberties, or both rights and liberties, correct? "Rights" are just that - rights. Legally speaking, all Human's have the 'right' to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. "Liberty" are privileges or prerogatives, often granted to a specific class of people, like the word "enfranchise." "Both" are combining both rights and liberties into one whole and positive package. jndyism 01-18-2011, 07:49 AM I think you meant rights, Liberties, or both rights and liberties, correct? Yep, I was kinda sloppy in typing up the original post. One could debate whether "rights" and "liberties" are mutually exclusive. I just don't know the Oxidation to the epoxide 17 with dimethyl sulfoxide-potassium oxide is followed by opening with methylamine. The generated imidazole 19 is deprotected with aqueous HCl to amine 21. Condensation with bromomethyl ketone 22 provides teicoplanin B methyl ester, 24, which is hydrolysed to oxime 20. The key step is the nucleophilic addition of the azide to the beta-lactam ring of teicoplanin

B 1 with concomitant loss of one mole of DMT-on protecting the imidazole. The route permits the efficient preparation of teicoplanin A methyl ester 1. August 1, 2011 Hi there and welcome to our first post on the G-Plates Blog here at Ecosia. We are a young, yet very enthusiastic and active community striving to support a meaningful green future for the web. We have over 250,000 registered users, making us the largest environmentally focused search engine on the planet. Our tree planting is currently taking place in Berlin, Germany. Like most people, you will probably have a good understanding of the benefits of planting trees. Many people have experienced the positive benefits of trees in their own backyard or local area. Trees are quiet, green beauties that improve the air quality and their presence is enough reason to plant one if you don't have one already. Planting trees is a simple process in our opinion, but it can be slightly time consuming. Our tree planting in Berlin is a unique project in that we partner with a large organization that has been helping to plant trees in vulnerable regions for years. This collaboration brings a wealth of tree planting knowledge, experience and planning to the table and we are so very happy to be a part of it. While it is one of the most important projects we have ever joined, it is still something that requires coordination in a massive operation such as this. Ecosia offers the service of tree planting for its users through an online marketplace 3e33713323
