The game created by Diwen Games that debuted in 2013 and won several awards. The storyline of the game begins with a hero named Tarnished, who has a fear of heights and a weak point on his right eye. Due to these things, Tarnished is unable to enter dangerous places and thus is an outcast. But when Tarnished encounters Uruk, a wanderer like himself, he saves Uruk from becoming prey of a monster. The story then unfolds as Uruk fights for his very survival. From that moment on, Tarnished develops a great resolve and gains a hunger for adventure. • Battle System: Account System Despite the all-new action RPG, the battle system is not based on fighting using combos or rapid attacks. The outcome of battles is determined depending on which party member is at the top of the battle conditions, and the way of attack is as well. The new battle system is suitable for players who do not want to use long combos or those who are not comfortable with complicated commands. • Real-Time Strategy Support You have a whole army of adventurers, the powers of which you can level up. Under the conditions of real-time strategy, you can strengthen your army and expand your territory. • Character System With the Feel of a Fantasy RPG The initial characters are low in level, but as you rise in level and gain new skills, the characters grow in personality. Your own character will grow in level and skills as you progress. As you get stronger, your own characters will gain access to stronger classes and will enjoy more growth and development. • Choose Your Adventure and Play the Game in Your Way In the beginning, you can freely make choices that determine the development of your own character. Through these free choices, you can freely develop the overall party and make each of them stronger. ■Is this Game like other Action RPG Games? The action RPG genre has grown over the years, and there are many titles that have already achieved great popularity. The most popular of these games have their own characteristic battle systems. As a result, it is easy to see similarities between the action RPG genre and other genres. However, we can confidently claim that The Elden Ring Game is distinguished from the others because its battle system is unique and different. ■Game features • A vast, stylish, and 3D open world. • Explorable and connectable world. • A story told in fragments. • Real-time strategy

I was quite impressed with this game I picked up because I have been looking for a new action RPG series to enjoy. This game offers a lot of things I enjoy in an RPG: customization, combat, and a story that's character driven. The story is something I especially enjoy because I love stories like that. The game has a story that you need to play through in order to unlock the rest of the game. As you progress through the story, more enemies, equipment, and dungeons appear for you to tackle. The graphics are cartoonish, but it fits the game very well. The game's simple controls are easy to learn, but difficult to master. The battle system is just what you'd expect from an action RPG, and it offers a lot of options for players to choose from. The game has quick battles but also offers more complex battles for players to decide their moves. Finally, the game has a level cap to the character you are playing, which you can gain additional levels and abilities by using the gained experience points to level up. This may be a game that you can pick up and play through for a few hours. For me, I found myself dying to get back into this game once I picked it up. So, if you're looking for a simple action RPG that's full of story, combat, and customization, this is the game for you. All in

Endothelin in aortic valvular disease. We measured plasma endothelin levels in 23 patients with aortic valve disease (valvular stenosis, n = 16; regurgitation, n = 7) and in 23 age-matched healthy volunteers. Patients with aortic stenosis had a significant increase in mean endothelin level (0.83 +/- 0.16 pg/mL) compared with age-matched healthy volunteers

(0.57 +/- 0.12 pg/mL). No significant difference in mean endothelin level was observed between patients with valvular regurgitation (0.71 +/- 0.15 pg/mL) and age-matched healthy volunteers. In subgroup analysis of patients with aortic stenosis, a trend was observed to associate increasing age with increased endothelin level (r = 0.49, P = .1, n = 16). Patients with aortic regurgitation did not demonstrate an increase in endothelin compared with age-matched healthy volunteers (0.44 +/- 0.12 vs 0.38 +/- 0.11 pg/mL, P = NS). We also measured changes in endothelin level after valve replacement surgery (aortic valve replacement) and observed a significant reduction in mean endothelin level (0.54 +/- 0.13 pg/mL, P = .01 vs pre-surgical mean endothelin level). These data suggest that endothelin plays a role in the regulation of valvular tone in patients with aortic stenosis, and that valve replacement may be associated with a reduction in circulating endothelin levels.[Comparison of skin preparation before the surgical treatment of burns].
